RAPID ADVANCE CONTINUES

Large Amount of War Material Taken by Reds.

PARIS.—(By Associated Press)—The Russian soviet forces have won control of the Isthmus of Perokop, leading to the Crimean peninsula, and the situation of General Baron Wrangle, the anti-Bolshevik commander in the Crimea, is extremely bad, according to dispatches received Saturday by the French foreign office.

The allied fleets, it is stated, are preparing to aid in the evacuation of certain districts in the Crimea.

The Bolsheviks have advanced beyond Perokop, the dispatches show, and have captured twelve million cartridges, 18 cannon, one tank, three armored trains, 10,000 shells and much transportation material.

POLES BEGIN OFFENSIVE

COPENHAGEN.—(By Associated Press)—A strong offensive by Polish troops was begun Wednesday on the northern Lithuanian front, according to a Kovno dispatch to the Berlingske Tidende, Saturday. After violent fighting the towns of Smotny and Turmoud were captured by the attacking forces, which now are fighting outside of Novoselovsk the reports state.

Dissemination is reported in the army of General Zeligowski (the insurgent Polish commander) (Whose troops presumably are the ones referred to in the Kovno message).

Novoselovsk is approximately 20 miles southwest of Brest and Turmoud is on the Dvina-Vilna railway line about 10 miles east of Novoselovsk.

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press)—The uncompleted work of the American Red Cross in Europe will be emphasized in sermons that will be delivered in churches throughout the country, which has been designated as Red Cross Sunday, by Livingston Farrand, chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross, said Saturday. Thousands of ministers are expected to discuss the organization's relief work and to urge the public to continue to support it.

Stress in sermons Sunday, it is expected, also will be laid on the domestic program of the Red Cross and the work that is being done by the Junior Red Cross in the schools of this country and among European children.

AGREEMENT NEAR

United States and Japan Working Out Differences.

TOKIO.—(By Associated Press)—Newspapers of this city report the Japanese and American governments have reached an agreement in principle relative to the exclusion of Japanese laborers from the United States. It is asserted, however, that there is a disagreement regarding the methods to be employed.

America is understood to desire provisions for exclusion embodied in a treaty, but Japan it is said, regards this procedure humiliating and as forming a precedent, she might be forced to following it.

In other respects, the negotiations are progressing, it is reported, and once this point has been settled, an agreement may be expected.

POLICE CHIEF OVERLEAFED TO DO SOME "DIRTY WORK"

Chief of Police O. J. Roush was all dolled up Saturday in a pair of overalls.

"I'd like to see the chief," a person said as he stepped up to Roush in the lobby at police headquarters. "This is him," the chief said.

"Hubb," the stranger mused as he glanced at the police department chief.

"Yes," the chief responded, "I'm getting ready to pull off some dirty work now."

As a matter of fact, Roush was wrestling with a bunch of new Irish signs to be placed on downtown streets today.

AIRMEN DROWNED IS BELIEF

Hope Rescue from Lake Michigan Almost Given Up.

LOST SINCE WEDNESDAY

Plane Leaving Naval Training Station Not Heard From.

CHICAGO.—All hope of finding the three lost naval aviators alive was abandoned Saturday morning. Searching parties, returning exhausted from another day's battling with the bitter cold and raging winds on Lake Michigan, reported they had not found one bit of wreckage of the flying boat in which the men left the Great Lakes Naval Training station Wednesday morning.

Even Lieutenant Commander Eugene E. Wilson, in charge of the aviation regiment at Great Lakes, who has been the most hopeful of the searchers, admitted he now believes the men have perished.

"There is only one more hope," he said, "and that is that the men may have been picked up by some passing ore boat which is not equipped with wireless, and which proceeded on its way. In that case we may not hear from them for a week. But, if that were the case, the crews which have been covering the lake certainly would have found a trace of the flying boat."

BULLET HOLE THRU SKULL

Subterranean Passages Discovered in Investigation.

CHICAGO.—The head of a man found buried beneath a ton of cinders in the rear of the once notorious De Luxe cafe here, presents to the police what they say will develop into one of the greatest mysteries of the year.

The discovery was made by John Durkin, fireman for the Hotel Alpin, who was removing the ashes. The head was found directly in front of the door from which the ashes of the cafe were discharged last spring.

The head had been decapitated just below the chin. It was well preserved, the police believe that it has been buried in the cinders since last spring.

A bullet had pierced the right forehead and two inches from the upper jaw were missing. A mass of long brown-black hair covered the top and rear of the cranium.

According to the police, the head was that of an American about 42 years of age.

A pair of old shoes wrapped in a hat sack and smeared with blood was found within two feet of the door of the cafe.

Explore Subterranean Passages.—Darbin called the police. Detectives rushed to the scene. Several policemen were put to work digging away the pile of cinders.

After an hour's work the entire pile was removed. Nothing but the skull and the shoes had been discovered. There was no clew.

Then the police commenced a systematic and thorough search of the basement of the hotel and the cafe. A maze of passageway leading into counters, cubby holes, coal chutes, and hidden closets were searched without discovery of clews.

The location where the head was found was described by the police as an ideal hiding place. In the alley entrance of the hotel and the cafe are the heating plants. A stairway about ten feet in height leads up from both doors. The cinders from the hotel furnaces are thrown thru a hole in the wall by the hoists and the heat and the steam from the heating plant are blown into the alley.

STATEMENT ISSUED

COLUMBUS.—The bank was taken over by the state department of banks and banking at the request of Foster B. Houston, president of the institution, said a statement Saturday by Irvin R. Pontius, state superintendent of banks.

The statement said further: "The Houston Bank is an old established institution with a capital of $50,000 and surplus and undivided profits of $11,000. The resources of the bank are more than $900,000. The request that the department take over the bank was made because of the fact that their loans and investments were such that they could not be turned into liquid form immediately. The Houston Bank is one of the interests owned by the Houston Trust estates, which also own an approximately 10,000 acres of land.

"As the Houston bank is a private enterprise the depositors have a first lien on the assets of the bank and the shareholders have a general lien on the entire Houston estate with the general creditors."

BIG EAST CITIES WITHOUT COAL

Situation Declared Serious in New York and Buffalo.

APPEAL FOR AID IS MADE

Doctor's Certificate Necessary to Get Coal.

NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press).—The first real cold snap of winter sent shivers thru thousands of New York apartment dwellers Saturday who were suffering because of the lack of heat due to the acute coal shortage.

Unable to get promise of fuel and with colder weather in sight, they flocked to dealers in oil, gas and electric heaters and soon these heating appliances were at a premium.

HEALTH MENACED

Conditions due to the coal shortage were described as "woeful" and dangerous to the public health by Commissioner of Health Copeland who has sent an appeal to the interstate commerce commission to issue priority orders for shipments of domestic sizes to cities for "at least one week."

Plans to meet the emergency situation are reported under way by President John F. Birmingham, of the D. L. & W. railroad, chairman of the committee on producers, who said large rail shipments of anthracite and sea cargoes of coal of domestic sizes are being rushed here for distribution.

Reserve coal supplies of public utilities also were reported to be rapidly diminishing.

BUFFALO HARD HIT

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(By Associated Press).—A doctor's certificate of necessity was required to obtain a ton of coal here Saturday and with the thermometer around 20 degrees above zero, thousands of families with empty coal bins clamoring for fuel.

A marked shortage in the supply of natural gas intensified the demand.

Temporary relief was expected within 24 hours. The chamber of commerce, anticipating the situation, has secured consignments from the anthracite mines totalling 7,200 tons and 700 tons were obtained from other sources. Distribution of this supply in ton lots thru regular dealers will begin Sunday.

The closing of navigation on the great lakes next week is expected to divert a large amount of anthracite coal to Buffalo and bring permanent relief.

HARDING TO SAIL WEDNESDAY

Will Board Steamer at New Orleans for Panama.

POINT ISABEL, Tex.—(By Associated Press).—President Harding left the Point Isabel firing grounds by a cold train and a virtually marooned in the hands by almost impassable roads. President-elect Harding remained at his seashore cottage here Saturday, winding up his vacation week with a complete rest.

He expects to get out for more touring Friday morning if the storm blows over and on Tuesday he expects to play a game of golf at Brownsville when he motors there to meet Governor Hobby of Texas. He probably will remain there over Tuesday night and will leave Wednesday morning on a special train for New Orleans to sail on a voyage to Panama.

The president-elect's special train is due at New Orleans at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and he will make a stay of about five hours, during which he will speak at a luncheon of the Association of Commerce. It is necessary his steamer will be held beyond this time for leaving.

COLDEST MORNING OF THE WINTER, SATURDAY

It was the coldest morning of the year Saturday when the weather rolled out of bed. The mercury registered 28 degrees above zero, and prospect for it warming up seemed favorable when the sun popped from behind its cover early and its rays began slipping downward.

Persons going to work walked briskly in the crisp atmosphere, garbed in their heaviest mid-winter clothing. At noon it was much warmer.

FRANCE PLANS BIG HOUSING DRIVE

To Build Homes for 30,000 Workers Next Year.

DISTRICTS ARE ORGANIZED

Scheme Somewhat Follows Societies in America.

PARIS—Under the direction of the Minister of Liberated Regions, a gigantic scheme for the housing of hundreds of thousands of workmen whose homes were destroyed during the war has just been launched.

The plan provides for the organization of "home construction organizations" in every district of the devastated zone, modeled to some extent on the "building and savings" societies in the United States. These organizations will be financed by private capital and will have a free hand in the work of rebuilding, but the government will maintain close supervision to avoid the danger of speculation. To facilitate their operation and cheapen the cost of construction the government will waive numerous kinds of taxes which would otherwise make the cost of building tremendous. In this manner it is hoped to build thousands of homes at approximately the same cost that prevailed in 1914, despite sharp increases in the cost of material and labor since the war.

The problem of housing workmen in that devastated area is one of the most serious confronting France in her effort to get quickly back on her feet. Though more than 75 per cent of the factories in the war zone have resumed operations, they are now employing less than 45 per cent of their personnel before the war. To some extent this is due to a sub-normal demand for manufactured products, but largely it develops from the fact that there are no buildings in which to house the workmen and their families.

At first this difficulty was not foreseen. French manufacturers, eager to get back to the "business as usual" basis, devoted all their efforts to rebuilding their damaged plants and restoring wrecked machinery. The employees were left to look out for themselves when it came to a matter of finding shelter.

The restoration of factories went forward so rapidly that in the summer of 1920 the lodging situation reached an acute crisis. Unless immediate steps are taken to provide shelter for the laborers French industry is bound to suffer in 1921.

30,000 HOUSES NEEDED

An investigation by the bureau of industrial reconstruction of the Ministry disclosed the fact that at a very minimum 30,000 houses, sheltering 200,000 workers and their families, must be erected before the end of 1921. This estimate does not take into account the condition in the mining centres, where thousands of men already have resumed work.

For this work of reconstruction alone it is estimated that at least $150,000,000 will be required. Furthermore, the needs of 600,000 men who already have resumed work under unsatisfactory housing conditions in many cases, are not considered.

The first organization to take over the work of rebuilding workmen's homes has been formed in the Lille district. Manufacturers themselves subscribed a large part of the funds, but part of the money was furnished by the state. To remove the society from any suspicion the Minister of Liberated Regions and the Minister of Hygiene have approved the by-laws of the new organization.

Each society will be limited in its operations to a certain district set aside for it. But one or more may unite in buying or building operations for the purpose of obtaining lower prices.

WOMEN LEADERS TALK ON RESULTS OF ELECTION

By MARGARY REX

NEW YORK.—What becomes of the denunciations of the prospective woman voter, the prophecies that she wouldn't know how to vote; that she wouldn't take the trouble to stand in line to cast her ballot; that she didn't care for candidate or principle or party sufficiently to stand back of them?

One of the most important decisions of our age was made in the recent vote. Lesser decisions in State and county were made, too, and in all of them woman had her say.

And woman has proved; that she wants to vote; that she will stand hours for the privilege in stuffy shops or on crowded sidewalks in a stiff gale; that she knows just for whom she wishes to vote, and that she is able to give good reasons for her decisions.

That she can fight for a principle and against a candidate, and also that she can give up a fight against a man to serve principle; that she may rebel openly against election results and predict as fearlessly as any man of long voting experience.

Of that number who believe that a protest, the at first overwhelming, has its ultimate effect is Mrs. Mary Garrett Hay, chairman of the New York City League of Women Voters, who has been in opposition to the reelection of Senator J. W. Wadsworth, Jr. from New York State.

WORK WILL HAVE RESULTS. Seen at her office, No. 37 W. Thirty-ninth-st., recently, she expressed satisfaction over the election returns, and said:

"All women who have worked for years to gain the ballot for their sex are delighted over the fact that women in this election have voted in such large numbers and have taken such an intense interest in campaign issues. The old contention that, when enfranchised, they would do nothing is now seen to be a fallacy.

"As a Republican I am pleased with Mr. Harding's great victory, and, with Republican gains all along the line. I hope that the Republican party will do a great reconstruction work for the country, that the voters will never regret the confidence they have expressed in the ability of the members of the party to bring us back to better conditions.

"As to the fight against Senator Wadsworth, in which I participated because I considered him a candidate unworthy the Republican party, I feel satisfied with many of its results. To be sure, the Senator was not defeated, but the women and the men who opposed him have issued a voter's declaration of independence that will in years to come bring needed reform. For they have shown that large numbers of the voters reject against having candidates forced on them by bosses and political machines; that they demand men in office who will represent their interests, and believe in independence of thought and action should be expected and respected at the ballot box.

"This movement will not die out. For the people who started it have found many adherents who will continue to preach its doctrines. Mr. Wadsworth had to work hard for his election, and would have been defeated, I believe, if the success of his whole ticket had not been so high. No good fight was ever fought in vain, so that we are forces are not discouraged with their first battle in the interest of more representative candidates and a ticket that is the expression of the voters' desires for them is merely postponed to a future date."

VIEW OF OTHER LEADERS. "Mrs. James Leeds Laidlaw agrees with Miss Hay's statement that Senator Wadsworth was helped

It seldom fails to bring relief and often so quickly as to astonish those who try it. It is a good-bye to your kind's worst enemy. Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy is especially helpful in chronic rheumatism, lumbago, and sciatica, a few doses often being sufficient to drive out the pain. by the success of his ticket. Mrs. Laidlaw is a prominent suffragist and member of the International Women Voters' Association.

"Senator Wadsworth ran behind his ticket," says Mrs. Laidlaw, "and this undoubtedly was caused by the women's protest. The Republican landslide brought abnormal election results which will mean an enormous reaction to come, and not very far distant either.

"Woman's vote is more or less disorganized now, but in another four years it will be a greater force. No one can predict how great or how far reaching it will become."

From Miss Helen Varick Boswell, a well-known suffragist who voted for Senator Wadsworth, comes another statement, intended to refute and confuse the jibing men who have said women cannot bury a prejudice.

"I don't believe in holding a private grudge against the Senator for something that happened two years ago," laughed Miss Boswell. "I don't agree with him on some of his views, but he is an honorable man of the sort we need in public office. For the public good many thousands of women voted for him.

"We needed Wadsworth to back Harding in Congress. Why expect Mr. Harding to function as a Republican President if we do not place supporters at his back in the Senate and the House?

"Women do not vote as a group. They have gone into various parties with the greatest interest and understanding of affairs. As chairman of an organization including thousands of women in New York County, I know positively that women are not only going to be organized but are organized right now.

TRUMPH OVER PREJUDICE. "The fact that Wadsworth is elected shows that women can subdue their prejudices to a greater cause. As for women breaking up friendships over political conviction, that is ridiculous. Women are human beings like men. Some will let these things matter and some won't. I have a number of friends directly opposed to me on political questions but I can say that these are the only points on which we differ at all."

With the coming of a new era in politics and with the enfranchised women in her hard-won place, former accusations against her sex must go their way along with the fast-disappearing enemies of suffrage.

Women have proved they can take defeat philosophically, and their leaders contend that they are equally competent to keep their heads, despite the intoxicating influences of victory.

NOT WORKING BUT TIRED OUT. When one feels always tired without working, or suffer from backache, lumbago, rheumatic pains, sore muscles or stiff joints it is not always easy to locate the source of trouble, but very frequently it can be traced to overworked or diseased kidneys. Mrs. J. Gibson, 12th & Edison St. La Junta, Colo., writes: "My kidneys were giving me a great deal of trouble for some time. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me right away." ## SCHOOL TEACHER WINS FIGHT

Feud Ends When She Threatens Arrest of Parents.

SOUTH ELIOT, Me. — Miss Blanche Gray, pretty twenty-year-old teacher in District No. 7, brought a bitter school feud of long standing to a head by threatening parents of her pupils with arrest unless they stopped annoying her.

Miss Gray was backed up by Superintendent McCue, who served notice that parents who visited the school property to browbeat the pretty school mistress would be taken into custody as trespassers.

The teacher says some of the children under her care are intellectually backward and still refuse to study. The drastic threats followed stormy visits of the parents to the schoolhouse to protest Miss Gray's way of teaching.

She hit upon the scheme of making the children learn their lessons every day, even if she had to keep them until nearly dark to make them do it.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen.

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, dures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

YALE AND PRINCETON CLASH IN ANNUAL GRID GAME TODAY

NEW YORK.—The annual clash between Yale and Princeton was the outstanding contest of today's eastern football program, although several other battles of more than passing interest were scheduled. Dartmouth plays Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Columbia meets Cornell at Ithaca; Washington and Jefferson invades Pittsburgh for its yearly battle with the Panthers; Harvard opposes Brown at Cambridge while the Army and Navy eleven faces Bowdoin and South Carolina respectively on academy fields.

Princeton was favored in the wagering to win from Yale while Dartmouth and Cornell were generally selected as victors over Pennsylvania and Columbia. Harvard planned to play its second string team against Brown to allow Varsity players and coaches an opportunity to witness the Yale and Princeton contest in order to be familiar with Yale's style of play when the Crimson faces the Blue at New Haven next Saturday. Pittsburgh and Washington and Jefferson anticipated a hard close conflict, with the odds favoring the Panthers.

The Princeton-Yale classic drew more than 50,000 spectators to the Palmer Memorial Stadium. Thrills of a gridiron rivalry that began 45 years ago, the spectacular attendance, beauty and fashion from all parts of the country, the competition in songs and cheers, the unprecedented fact that the captains of the teams are brothers, all these factors have caused every seat to be sold long in advance.

BROTHERS ARE RIVALS

Captain "Mike" of Princeton, and Captain "Tim" of Yale, meet to their last Yale-Princeton game, each determined to go down in college history as the leader of a winning eleven. One hundred thousand eyes had greater interest than ever before, the pre-game handshake and toss of the coin by the captains—a strapping blonde in orange and black and a slightly older and huskier and darker athlete in blue, wishing each other the best of everything except success in this game.

Mrs. Mary E. Callahan, the mother of three football captains this year—for another son is a schoolboy leader—had reserved seats on the Princeton side. This did not indicate her sympathy, she explained, but was part of her plan of benevolence. Last year she sat in the Yale stands.

BALL DISPUTE IS SETTLED

CHICAGO.—Peace reigned in baseball circles today following yesterday's agreement between the opposing factions in the reorganization of the game.

The sixteen club owners of the two major leagues were in accord on every issue, which today left the same eight clubs in the National and the same eight in the American league. The previous war was averted.

Judge K. M. Landis of the Federal Court, Chicago, accepted the chairmanship of baseball and will act as a committee of one as final court of appeal in all matters of dispute between the two major leagues of any minor league which may join the majors in reorganizing the game.

Judge Landis will remain on the bench. His salary, there is $7,500 a year. He stipulated that this sum should be subtracted from the $50,000 a year offered by the baseball men and so his salary as chairman of the national pastime will be $42,500 a year. The term for which he is chosen is seven years.

The minor leagues are invited and expected to join the majors under the Landis banner, but whether they will do so or not the matter is settled as to the major leagues.

Chicago will be headquarters for the baseball commission and offices will be opened immediately. If second and third members are chosen for this commission it is very certain according to club owners that Judge Charles A. McDonald of Chicago will be one of them.

MAROONS ARE IN BAD WAY FOR GAME

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Chicago and Michigan are ready. A giant crowd of 32,000 is almost assembled. Both teams are out of the running for Big Ten honors, but the talk today is a stunner would believe that the championship of the world hinged in this combat—the first between the Wolverines and the Maroons on Ferry field since 1904.

Both teams are crippled. Chicago probably the more seriously, but it should be a great battle, one as but lately fought as any in the west this year. When Fielding H. Yost and Alonzo Amos Stagg conflict each other somebody is due for a sound thrumping, and this year will be no exception.

ALUMNI FILE ANN ARBOR

Ann Arbor is jammed with returning alumni, who seem to date back as far as 1892. The little town is filled with members of classes two and three generations back. Every fraternity house looks like a mobilization station, with coats jamming the halls and every room of some filled. The town is all doled up in Maroon and Maize and Blue bunting for the annual roundup of old grads.

Coach Stagg led thirty-three of his athletes into Ann Arbor shortly after noon, and the Maroons headed straight for Ferry field for a final workout. The Wolverines were running signals out on the endless practice of practice fields that cover seventy-two acres behind the huge concrete stadium.

MAROONS BADLY CRIPPLED That the Chicago machine is badly crippled is an open secret, and while the Michigan crowd believes it to be the usual Maroon "bear story" it still remains that Coach Stagg has a horribly mutilated gang of athletes. The player cast and crutches squad is headed by Sgt. Bobbie Cole, with Charlie Redmon, Jettie Neff, and Bate Hannich as privates. These four maimed stars were brought along as spectators as a reward for their previous sacrifices.

In addition Ciller McGuire, Rouse Halladay and Hankle all are out of the game, but it will be necessary for several of them to go to their posts for at least part of the time.

WOMAN CANNOT PLAY

Michigan, too, has her cripples. Tad Weiman the big tackle, a veteran of the 1916 team who returned to college this fall, trotted around Ferry field this afternoon with a big brace on his knee, and he cannot perform tomorrow. Jack Dunn, quarter back and Capper, and both were damaged in the Ohio State game, and Coach Yost said they would probably be replaced by Banks and Cohn.

With Cole and Hannich both out, Coach Stagg is hard pressed for punters and he indicated he might give Clark, who got his baptism of fire two weeks ago against Ohio State with dismal results, a chance to redeem himself. Otherwise Palmer is the Maroons' last hope as a booter.

CENTRE FINDS TECH IS TOO ROUGH, OH!

DANVILLE, Ky.—Dr. Frank L. Rainey, faculty chairman of the Centre College Athletic Association, announced that a meeting of the association today it formally was decided to sever all athletic relations with Georgia Tech due, the announcement said, to manifest unfairness and unsportsmanlike conduct of tech football players in a recent game at Atlanta between the football teams of the two colleges.

Statements made by Centre College players who participated in the game asserted that members of the tech squad deliberately kicked and struck Centre men on the football field when they were down.

ATLANTA, Ga.—The Georgia Tech athletic committee at a meeting yesterday voted against placing Centre college on tech's football schedule next season. J. B. Crenshaw, faculty chairman of athletics at the Georgia school, announced today.

Prof. Crenshaw said this step was considered necessary because the Centre college officials had failed to make any public disavowal of statements published in Danville and Louisville newspapers that their attention had been called to these vicious and unjust attacks on the Georgia team.

SIGNALS ARE ALL SET FOR NEXT GAME

The Lima Signals will play the strong Defiance Independents Sunday. This game promises to be of interest, for the Independents have not been defeated this year and the Signals are determined to break this record.

The Defiance team is claimed to be fast and heavy and in their games this year have shown some clever football. The Lima fans feel confident, however, that if the Signals can defeat the Columbus Grove Maroons, 42-0, they can win from the Independents.

The Signals were forced to cancel their game last Sunday due to bad weather and have been practicing hard the last two weeks. All the Signals are in good condition both mentally and physically and can put up a fast clever game. Their lineup will probably be the same as the game two weeks ago.

The weather promises to be excellent and a large number of Lima fans will be at the game.

STATE COACH IS OFF FOR WEST

COLUMBUS.—Coach Wilco left his Buckeyes in charge of assistants Friday while he departed for Madison, Wis., to witness the Illinois-Wisconsin battle. The Buckeyes have an off day today, but next week will meet the Illini at Urbana, Ill. Wilco held a stiff scrimmage for his team Friday night and another workout was prescribed today.

Every effort is being made to have a perfect Buckeye offense and an impregnable defense when the Illini meet. The forward pass is holding the chief attention of the Buckeye coach and an aerial attack will feature the Illinois game.

GRID GAMES ECHO THRU SOUTH

ATLANTA, Ga.—Football games in the south today include clashes between Tulane and Mississippi A. and M. at New Orleans, Georgia Tech and Georgetown, Vanderbilt and Virginia at Nashville, Auburn and Washington and Lee at Birmingham and Georgia and Florida at Athens, Ga. Neither Tulane nor Mississippi has lost to a Dixie eleven this season and both are primed for a hard tussle.

Smashing under the 21 to 6 defeat received at the hands of the Navy last Saturday, the Georgetown team invaded the south determined to trounce Tech which won last year's game between the two schools 27 to 0.

The game at Lexington between Centre College and Kentucky State has attracted considerable interest thruout the south as has the contest at Annapolis between South Carolina and the Navy.

Catholic University met Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va., today. The V. M. I. eleven has made a phenomenal scoring record this season and was expected to increase its total today.

WABASH DEFEATS KAZOO NORMAL

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind.—Wabash college was victorious over the Western State Normal team of Kalamazoo, Mich., here Saturday afternoon 27 to 7 in a hard fought game staged before a huge crowd of alumni fans. "Come on Wabash," full back, was the Scorial's big group cheer. The college authorities in a big home coming event, presented letters to all Wabash men who took part in any form of inter-collegiate activities during their college days prior to 1900.

ILLINOIS--WISCONSIN GAME IS WATCHED BY GRID FANS

CHICAGO.—Illinois today faces Wisconsin at Madison in the most important contest of the day's conference games, with Wisconsin's title chances at stake.

The Illini hope for victory so that they may meet Ohio State next Saturday with their slate still clean. Coaches of both teams stated today that their squads were in excellent physical condition and unless some of the regulars are injured early in the day, the battle should be one of the hardest fought of the season in the west.

Chicago battles Michigan at Ann Arbor for the first time since 1901, Purdue plays Northwestern at Evanston and Minnesota meets Iowa at Iowa City in other conference games.

Indiana goes out of the conference to play Notre Dame, while Ohio State is idle.

Ohio State and Illinois are each undefeated with four victories while Wisconsin has lost to Ohio State. A victory today for Wisconsin and again over Chicago a week later would give the Badger eleven a standing of four games won and one lost. Illinois if defeated today would go into the Ohio State game with the same standing.

As Illinois has a schedule of one more conference game than Ohio, a defeat by Wisconsin today would still leave open a chance for the conference title in the Ohio State game since the Illini still gain a standing of five games won and one lost to Iowa and one for Ohio and Wisconsin.

CHICAGO ON BUM

Chicago can only be given an outside chance to beat Michigan. Their nametags admit injuries have shattered the backfield and offensive leaders of the Maroons, who must play brilliant football to entertain hopes of victory.

The Northwestern-Purdue game is expected to be an equal battle for the homecoming spectators, but has no bearing on the championship race. Notre Dame's battle with Indiana at Indianapolis will decide the championship of the Hoosier state. Minnesota was at Iowa City where the homecoming crowd hoped to see Iowa repeat its feat of the last two seasons of defeating the Gophers.

WAR IN THE FUTURE

WAR is not a very pleasing subject to contemplate for the future. But if General Friedrich von Bernhardi, author of "Germany and the Next War," published during the World War, and now author of a second volume "War in the Future," has his way about it the militaristic forces of his country will not be slow in preparing for a new and important struggle in Central Europe.

This new book follows closely in detail and argumentation Bernhardi's early volume. It is just as important, in showing the trend of thought among the imperialistic forces of Germany. It gives no ground in its contention that "right makes might." It is first and always a call to arms for the future. Bernhardi may be dead when the next war comes involving his country (if ever comes), but the potency of his teachings may be sure will revive. If the nations are bound together in a league bent upon preserving universal peace militaristic forces everywhere may find themselves seriously handicapped in proceeding along the line of development of implements of war.

But if Bernhardi's new volume means anything at all, it is a careful survey of the Great War with the exercise of authority to point out mistakes of the past and dictate plans for the future. In this book Bernhardi writes seriously of the important work of diplomacy. Says he: "The art of diplomacy consists principally in causing deception, while at the same time safeguarding one's own interests or applying one's own strength correctly." And, again, going a little deeper into his subject, he says quite frankly: "Before one starts a political game, one must ask one's self whether, in case of need, one is willing and ready to take up arms. The necessary deception can be aroused without a single untrue word—therein lies the art of deception."

When it comes to a direct discussion of war, General Bernhardi writes: "War is nothing but a continuation of politics by other means. . . There is no room for magnanimity in this game; in fact such a thing would be a crime against one's own nation."

"War in the Future," by this master mind, is a subject that lies nearest to his heart. He dreams of war and sacrifice. To Bernhardi the sacrifices of a race mean nothing more than that which the race owes to its monarch. In other words the common people, who bear the brunt and pay the heavy price of hostilities, need have no concern in the making of war. For them the part is to arm themselves and do battle at the command of royalty.

Now it must be apparent to anyone who is interested at all in the permanent peace of the universe, that such doctrines as Bernhardi is promoting can lead but to one end, war, providing in such countries as harbor men of this type, someone does not arise to proclaim the falseness of such arguments. Of course in the event the thought of the masses is directed away from the savagery of war and turned in the direction of peaceful pursuits and amity between nation and nation, even Bernhardi with his torch of treason to a people will not be able to get very far.

It seems certain, however, that the militaristic forces in the world will read "War in the Future," with a great deal of care. They will ponder over the principles which this man promulgates. They of course will leave out the moral side of the issue for the very reason that they do not believe a moral issue can conflict with the theory of "right makes might."

Bernhardi not unlike Ludendorff, is impressed with the fact that the German government, by not heeding the warnings of its military leaders with the greater possible humility, is directly responsible for what happened in 1918, the collapse of the military regime. From this time on, with the dissemination of this book, Bernhardi will do what he can to promote a feeling of animosity in the hearts of the German people. At this moment, fortunately for the German people and the rest of the world, his advice is not apt to be accepted outside a limited circle of junkies and makers of wars.

RELIEF IS NEEDED

IF the commission-manager form of government will do for Lima only about one-half the things confidently claimed for it by the framers of the city charter, then it's too bad that it doesn't come into actual operation a year sooner than provided for.

And in that assertion there is no concealed "dig" at any one or more of the city officials under the aldermanic form of city government. For be it known that most any or all of the cities of Ohio are in the same hard row that is being experienced by Lima, in the matter of "getting somewhere" with funds available and with the cumbersome plan of government under which we labor and perspire.

With our financial dilemma inflated to the point that it becomes necessary for the calling of a public assembly to "devise ways and means," etc.; with service-at-cost gas and electric railway franchises in the formative stage and the populace generally suspicious of anything and everything in public utility togs; with red tape thrown around every move yards and miles in length; with departments all at sea in the matter of financial first aid and council floundering about in an effort to find a loophole to escape from a train of predicaments, indeed the outlook for the next year is not rosy.

About the only thing that can or will afford relief is special enactment by the legislature. City officials go on at about the same old salaries, the duties of office become more onerous and arduous with passing time, bigger problems come up as the city grows, costs are still high and the people generally howl in wrath when a suggestion is made that somebody loosen up and pay more taxes on swollen valuations. We enjoy the privileges and benefits of government, but generally we kick like bay steers when asked to pay.

If the commission manager form of government will help the situation, let's have it and have it quick. But it won't; the same old problems presented in a new way will be our portion. We might as well try to run away from our shadow in the sunshine. The troubles of the present form of city government will be inherited by the city commissioners. The manager will meet up with the same difficulties that now confront council. When we learn well the lesson that the benefits and privileges of citizenship are worth paying for in the proper measure, then will our troubles cease.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT TODAY

This is an exceptionally fortunate day.

It is a lucky wedding day, unless the bridegroom is older than the bride.

Social affairs have a good augury today.

Again stars predict serious troubles for England, and the death of prominent statesmen.

Extraordinarily inclement weather during the winter will result in much illness.

Persons whose birthday this is will have a quiet uneventful year.

MY LETTER

Says Mrs. Ovenstein, So Other Suffering Women May Learn How to Get Well.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about your wonderful Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to publish my letter so other women who suffer may learn how to get well."—Mrs. Iva Ovenstein, 902 S. Marshfield Ave., Chicago, Ill.

This good old-fashioned remedy is made from native roots and herbs and contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medical Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The pastor will preach in the morning at 10:15 and in the evening 7:15 from revival subjects. Jr. Y. P. C. E. 2:30. Sen. Y. P. C. E. 6:00 p. m. Services each evening next week beginning at 7:15. Come for all things are now ready.

Lima Is Ohio's Wonder City

OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND PEOPLE live within 25 miles of The News press rooms, and they are going in and out of stores here every day. They are all thrifty Americans, the salt of the Earth.

The railroads and traction lines have been the greatest factors in Lima's growth and development, and every property owner and resident of the city owes a debt of gratitude to the men who built these roads and brought them to their present state of efficiency.

Associated Press reports show 75,000 out of employment in Cleveland; 25,000 in Akron; 20,000 in Toledo and 5,000 in Canton. But Lima is absorbing all its unemployed because our Locomotive, Cigar, Refinery and smaller industries continue to show gains. The good, honest workman still has and will have a job. The agitator and drone are moving on; which are you?

There is always a job in Lima for girls in their teens, married women and widows. When a man moves to Lima he knows his wife and daughters can find employment, if they want to work.

I Lima, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Lima is one of the marvels of the state. In common with other institutions, the growth of The Lima News is largely dependent on the growth of Lima. And the growth of Lima rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. Lima will contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.
